It's free Stellar .Q: Java - filter and Sort a Object First I want to know if this is a good idea (given my specific use case). Second, I'm very rusty with Java and can't find good examples, and could use some help. I have a java object like this: class Player{ int id; ArrayList coins; } The "coins" Object contains a lot of different coins. I want to be able to "Sort" the coins, so that the coins a player has most often appears first. I also want to be able to filter out the coins by class. So the results of the above example would be (with the result sorted from most to least frequent): [Gold = 1], [Copper = 2], [Iron = 3], [Silver = 4], [Gold = 1, Copper = 2, Iron = 3, Silver = 4] Is it possible to sort the list of coins from most to least and to filter by class? I am using Java 7 if that makes a difference. I know I could create two new objects (one to hold the coins and one to hold the class) and then merge the two lists together, but I'm hoping that there is a more elegant solution. A: Your order from most to least frequent is the same as your order in descending order. So you can use Collections.sort with custom comparator: class Player { private int id; private List coins; public Player(int id, List coins) { this.id = id;
