I am using php artisan deploy:production and it's seems to be working as expected... meaning when I ssh into the server and cd into the public folder, I can see my vhost's files, no question. However, if I run umask it goes back to 002: umask 002 umask -R Yet I still seem to be getting the same behavior. My approach seems to be working as expected as far as the vhost's directories, but not the files inside the directory. Is this a scoping issue? I have also tried rsync --perms and that b7e8fdf5c8
